The National Office shall recommend the removal of said individual to the Board of Directors.
- e. Any Unit officer, executive committee member elected at-large, or standing and special committee chairperson who fails to maintain current membership status throughout their tenure in office shall be removed. The National Office shall recommend the removal of said individual to the Board of Directors through the Membership and Units Committee.

2. (Removal of Members of Units)

When an individual becomes a member of the Association, that individual pledges to abide by the rules and policies of the Association and the decisions of the Board of Directors. By becoming and/or remaining a member of the NAACP, a member acknowledges and agrees that the NAACP is a voluntary organization and membership in the NAACP does not bestow any property interest on the member. Each member acknowledges and agrees that membership in the NAACP is a privilege, not a right. The Board of Directors, upon finding that an elected officer or a member of the Association, or of a subsidiary Unit of the Association, has engaged in conduct that is not consistent with the principles, aims, and purposes of the Association as set forth in its Constitution and as defined by the Board of Directors, or has engaged in conduct inimical to the best interests of the Association, may at its sole discretion, by affirmative vote of two-thirds (2/3) of those present and voting, remove any elected officer or member for cause after a hearing pursuant to the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Directors.

Upon receipt of allegations, documentation, statements, and/or other information that an officer or member of the Association may have engaged in misappropriating NAACP Unit funds, the Association, in its discretion, may pursue criminal charges and/or civil remedies to collect the misappropriated funds. The officer or member must return all misappropriated funds and pay all collection costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, in order to be considered for reinstatement by the Board of Directors.

The administrative procedures contained in Article X of the Constitution and this Article shall constitute the sole means for resolving any dispute, claim, or complaint of any officer or member against the Association or any Unit, or any member or officer thereof related to such person's role and/or membership in the Association. By accepting their membership in this voluntary and private Association, each member expressly agrees to waive the right to seek injunctive relief (such as by filing a lawsuit in a court of law seeking a temporary restraining order or injunction) concerning the procedures contained in Article X of the Constitution and this Article, and also agrees to exhaust all internal remedies provided in the Constitution and these Bylaws without commencing any type of civil action or proceeding against the Association or any Unit, or member or officer thereof, related to such person's role and/or membership in the Association. A member who commences an external civil action, suit, or proceeding relating to their membership in the Association and any Unit shall have their membership automatically revoked. Such automatic revocation shall be effective after notification by the General Counsel to the Board of Directors upon terms and conditions as determined by the Board of Directors.

3. (Filing of Complaint)

Members of the Association are encouraged to make reasonable attempts to amicably resolve disputes without the Association's formal intervention. Members should resort to the complaint process under this Article only with respect to matters of significant importance which cannot be otherwise resolved. Prior to invoking the process outlined in Article X, the member should give careful consideration as to whether application of the complaint process would require a disproportionate allocation of scarce Association resources.

4. (Authority of National President and CEO)

When the President and CEO is satisfied in their sole discretion that there is danger of serious harm to the Association or Unit involved, that a member's conduct is not consistent with the principles, aims, and purposes of the Association or Unit, as set out in the Constitution, and as further defined by the Board of Directors, or the member has engaged in conduct inimical to the best interests of the Association or Unit, such that immediate action is necessary, they may order any officer or member of an Unit or the Association suspended pending a hearing.

5. (Notice of Complaint and Response)

The hearing procedures with respect to complaints filed under this Article shall be as follows: within thirty (30) business days of receipt of the complaint, the President and CEO or their designee shall forward a copy of the complaint by electronic mail to the officer or member against whom it has been filed at their last electronic address of record with the Association. The fifteen-day period shall commence from the date service of the complaint by electronic mail to the respondent is complete. A written response or request for hearing sent by regular mail will be considered timely if it is postmarked within the fifteen-day period.

6. (National Office Review and Investigation)

The National Office, upon receipt of the complaint and the respondent's timely written response and/or request for hearing, if any, shall conduct an investigation, determine whether the respondent(s) requests a hearing, render a determination, and within ninety (90) business days of the receipt of the complaint, report findings and recommendations regarding the complaint to the Membership and Units Committee of the Board of Directors. Failure by the respondent to timely provide information or a written response or request for hearing does not preclude the National Office from proceeding with an investigation irrespective of the cooperation of the respondent(s) and does not result in an automatic dismissal of the complaint. The National Office, at its sole discretion, may extend the ninety-day period. If the Membership and Units Committee believes disciplinary action may be warranted and the respondent has requested a hearing, it shall order a hearing panel in the matter. The panel shall be appointed by the Chairperson of the Membership and

7. (Hearing Procedure)

Where a hearing has been convened, the hearing panel shall review the relevant written documents of the National Office's investigation and also allow oral or written statements by the parties, but maintains full discretion to consider what information is relevant. Parties to the hearing may have a legal advisor; however, legal advisors may not make statements, written or oral, during the hearing, and legal advisors to the respondent may not make any type of objections during the hearing. The panel, in its sole discretion, decides the number and relevance of any witnesses, statements, and/or documents. Each party and each witness, if any, shall appear separately before the hearing panel. No party or witness may question another party or witness at the hearing. The panel may, in its sole discretion, ask questions of the parties or witnesses at the hearing. The hearing shall be confidential and attendance is limited to the parties, their legal advisors, if any, and witnesses permitted by the panel. No parties, their legal advisors, or witnesses may record the hearing. If any party or witness violates the requirement of confidentiality in this section, their conduct may be subject to a complaint under this Article X, and may lead to their ultimate removal as a member of the Association. Based upon its review of the parties' submissions and oral and/or written statements, if any, the panel shall render findings and recommendations to the Membership and Units Committee. The Membership and Units Committee shall adopt, reject, remand with instructions, or modify the panel's recommendation and report its recommended action to the Board of Directors at the next meeting of the Membership and Units Committee. The Board of Directors shall adopt or reject the committee's recommendation at the next meeting of the Board of Directors. The decision of the Board of Directors shall be final.

Such charter suspension or revocation shall not invalidate the membership of any member of the Unit in the Association. Notice of the findings and action of the Board of Directors shall be sent by the President and CEO by registered mail to the President and Secretary of the Unit and shall be published in the official organ of the National Association and in a newspaper of general circulation in the jurisdiction where the Unit is located. Upon receipt of the notice by the President or Secretary by mail, publication, or otherwise of charter suspension or revocation, the Unit shall cease to function, and the officers shall forthwith forward all records, property, and monies of the Unit to the Association where the same may be applied in its discretion for the benefit of the community wherein the Unit was located.
